Excerpt from Education in Nova Scotia Before 1811: A Dissertation Submitted to the Faculty of Philosophy of the Catholic University of America in Partial Fulfilment of the Requirements, for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

Fundamental changes in the educational policy of Nova Scotia have occurred since pioneer days of settlement. A well-ordered body of school law now provides for the province a system of public schools commensurate with modern needs. Few characteristics of its origin remain. Professional vision has democratized public education and injected new purposes into the work of our schools. The passage from the old order to the new was effected only by a gradual process. For many years ideals in educational theory and practice that had served to mould and direct educational effort in colonial days continued to exert a potent influence on the trend of subsequent school development in the province. It is by an insight into their nature that a clue can best be discovered both for a proper grasp of later educational problems and for an understanding of the educational...
